

GLOSSARY OF TERMS

Aborigine – one of the native peoples of Australia adaptations – a change that a living thing goes through so it can survive in its environment arboreal – describing an animal that lives in trees

Australia – an island country and continent in the southern hemisphere, in the southwestern Pacific Ocean carnivore – an animal that feeds only on animals characteristics – a typical quality or feature consumer – an animal that consumes food decomposer – an organism that consumes and breaks-down organic material endangered species – a species or type of plant or animal that is in seriously at risk of becoming extinct environment – the natural world of the land, sea and air food chain – an ordered arrangement of animals and plants in which each feeds on the one below it in the chain habitat – the place and natural conditions in which a plant or animal lives herbivore – an animal that feeds only on plants joey – a baby marsupial koala – a small Australian marsupial that lives in the eucalyptus forest live born – animals born alive from the mother's body instead of hatching from an egg mammal – warm-blooded, vertebrate animals that have hair or fur on their bodies and feed milk to their young marsupial – a family of mammals whose females carry their babies in a pouch (such as the koala) monotreme – unusual Australian mammals that hatch from eggs (echidna, platypus) nocturnal – describing an animals that is most active at night omnivore – an animal that feeds on plants and animals pap – a food produced by a mother koala that is a mixture of partly digested eucalyptus leaves and dung pouch – pocket-like opening on the underbelly of female marsupials where young are raised/nurtured predator – an animal that hunts other animals for food prey – an animal that is hunted by another animal for food producer – a plant that produces food energy

